

The Source raises $175,000 for Kids Help Phone

Support for critical youth mental health resource

The Source's latest annual fundraiser for Kids Help Phone raised $175,000 for the professional counselling service and celebrated the charitable organization's 30th anniversary.

The event featured a special screening at the Toronto International Film Festival (TIFF) and testimonial videos that gave attendees a look at the evolution of Kids Help Phone's service platforms, including the Crisis Text Line launched in 2018 with support from Bell Let's Talk.

The Source team's hard work and contributions from more than 65 vendor partners made the event a great success. These efforts will help enable Kids Help Phone to continue providing essential mental health support to young Canadians.

The Source President Claire Gillies, Kids Help Phone CEO Katherine Hay, Kids Help Phone board member (and former President of The Source) Charles Brown with The Source team members and other gala attendees

thesource.ca

279 Bayview Drive
Barrie, ON L4M 4W5
Bus: (705) 728-2262

About The Source

The Source is Canada's largest tech retailer, with over 400 locations nationwide. Our knowledgeable tech experts give consumers great advice on all the latest top brand tech, including; mobile phones, smart home, home entertainment, home office and audio products. For more information, visit one of our stores or thesource.ca.